

MICRODERMABRASION CONSENT FORM

Microdermabrasion projects a flow of inert crystals over the skin, and abrades away epidermal tissue in the areas treated. It is done so precisely that normal surrounding tissue is hardly affected. Microdermabrasion is often used to treat acne, reduce the appearance of scars, wrinkles, hyper pigmentation and other skin conditions.

After a treatment, the skin may temporarily be red and feel tight and warm as if exposed to the sun or wind. Slight redness and swelling may appear with deeper treatment levels, in addition to slight blood spotting. Healing may take several days or longer.

Your fresh newly exposed skin will be delicate. It is important to use a mild cleanser and keep the skin well moisturized. Use a full spectrum sun block (30+ SPF) daily. Avoid the use of Retin-A, Renova for at least 7-10 days after. Avoid alpha or beta hydroxyl type products and all scrubs for at least 5 to 7 days after, or until initial sensitivity subsides. Avoid swimming and tanning beds for at least one week after. Any time the skin barrier is broken there is a small risk of bacterial or viral infection.
